'Where great lives begin!'

Dear Parents and Carers,

In Monday's assembly, Mrs Ronan introduced this half-term's Catholic Social Teaching theme of Community and Participation. Mrs Ronan explained how she is part of many communities at home and at school. She encouraged the children to think about the many and varied communities they are part of, and what it means to be part of a community - to consider what can we offer, individually and also as part of a community. God has made us to live with others. It is in relationships and community that we flourish, discover who we are, learn to love and learn to live. We also prayed for Pope Francis, who is unwell at this time, and thought about his words: 'Don't be observers, but immerse yourself in the reality of life, as Jesus did.'

We welcomed the parents from 4D for lunch this week! They enjoyed a delicious meal together. Next week, we will be joined by 4G parents.

The Juniors took part in a special assembly all about Parliament. We were visited by Nikki, who works for Parliament and whose job it is to go around to schools and teach children about the Houses of Parliament. The children (and staff!) learned lots of new and interesting information which I know they will be keen to share with you at home.

We have lots of things planned to celebrate World Book Day next week. Make sure you join us to read with your children (timetable in this newsletter). Non-uniform day will take place on World Book Day (Thursday 6th March), and children are welcome to come to school dressed as their favourite book character. Entries for the 'potato character' competition will be accepted Monday-Wednesday of next week and winners will be announced on Friday!

The following week, we will mark British Science Week, with the theme 'Changing and Adapting'. There will be another non-uniform day on Friday 14th March- this time come to school in your brightest clothes to represent a 'chameleon' which we know changes colours in order to adapt to its environment.

Best Wishes,

Ms Reynolds
Deputy Headteacher
